Tools and Toys for the Traveling Genealogist

Presented by Roger B. Williams

We all dream of taking our “Heritage Tour,” traveling to the sites where our ancestors trod the ground and made their homes. These trips can be enhanced with some advance planning along with the use of both high- and low-technology tools. Knowing what tools to take along with you (and how to use them) will make for a productive, less stressful, and more enjoyable research trip.

Roger makes use of a variety of tech tools while traveling and hopes that some of the “Tools and Toys” he discusses and shows today will help you to expand your family history knowledge, to accurately document your findings, and to have safe travels.

About our presenter

Roger B. Williams’ career as an attorney has spanned about forty-five years. Prior to serving in the NYS Attorney General's office, Roger was an attorney in private practice as well as in a corporate setting. In 2009, Roger retired from his position with the Attorney General’s office after serving for more than 25 years. Since then, Roger has been practicing in Family Court as an “Attorney for the Child” (formerly called a Law Guardian), helping children and their families sort out issues which come before that Court. During his legal career, Roger developed a fascination with office automation – computers, applications, and gadgets – tools which facilitated his work. Now, Roger enjoys putting these tools to work in his genealogical research. Roger has served several terms as a member of the CNYGS Board of Directors. He helped develop the group’s first website and assisted with the County Packet Indexing Project. Roger has presented programs to the Society’s monthly meetings on a variety of topics, often linking his legal knowledge with his interests in automation, computers, and family history.

Meetings (unless posted otherwise) are held at the
Pebble Hill Presbyterian Church, 5299 Jamesville Rd., DeWitt, NY 13214
